קרין מאיר רובינשטיין, מנכ"לית ונשיאת האיגוד הישראלי לתעשיות מתקדמות (IATI):
 "אני מברכת את השרה פרקש הכהן על היוזמה והמאמצים שאותם היא מובילה על מנת לטפל במצוקת העובדים החמורה בתעשיית ההיי-טק הישראלית. כדי לתת מענה מיטבי לסוגיה, יש לפעול בשיתוף פעולה לניבוי תהליך גרוב, שילדול מעורבות ושיח עם התעשייה, בעזרת האיגוד וגורמים ולונוניים נוספים. נשמח לסייע לשרה ולממשלה במטרה לקדם את ענף ההיי-טק".

CEO and president of IATI, Karin Mayer Rubinstein, congratulated The Minister of Innovation and Science, Orit Farkash Hacohen on her efforts in leading the initiative and addressing the crucial issue of human capital scarcity in the Israeli High-Tech industry.

Funding Programs for Training Human Capital in the High Tech Industry

IATI and The Minhelet (a joint venture for the Ministry of Labor and the socio-economic forum) joined forces to develop funding programs for training human capital in the High Tech Industry, in order to overcome the challenges many juniors face in jumping over the hurdle of adequate post-graduation employment in the High Tech sector.

IATI conducted surveys and in-depth interviews with HR Managers from IATI HR WG, to pinpoint and understand the obstructions of companies in recruiting juniors, so that the funding programs will better suited for the companies /academia in selecting whom to train.

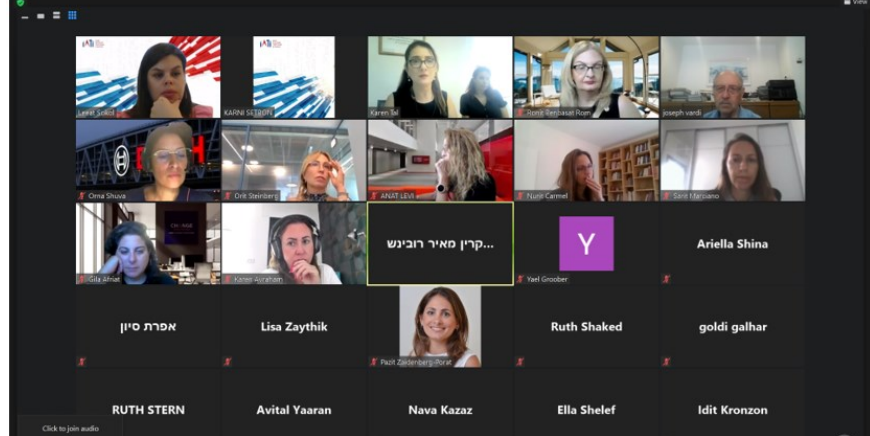

IATI Tax Committee

IATI Tax Committee acted to amend the Partnership Ordinance and worked directly with The Ministry of Justice. IATI set up a team of Venture Capital Funds and leading law firms, who submitted The Ministry of Justice a proposition to rectify the partnership package and conform it world norms, especially Cayman and Delaware.

Recently IATI Tax Committee was engaged, inter alia in the following topics: Section 16A and ruling issues; Income Tax- investors, foreign and Israeli GP's; VAT on success fee; Angels Law; Plan 43 Protection for VC Funds in the High-Tech Industry; direct expenses and more.

IATI HR WorkGroup Quarterly Meeting

IATI HR Work group gathered for its quarterly meeting.

The main subject of this meeting was Diversity and Inclusion in High Tech companies.

We hosted Yossi Vardi and Karen Tal from "Tovanot", which aims to create equal opportunities for pupils from the periphery and schools at risk.

IATI & Tovanot in Education

The purpose of the program is to provide an equal opportunity for children in the periphery and to integrate into Israeli high-tech as adults via the studies of English done by IATI senior officials members.
